CONGRESSMAN GREEN TELLS CROWD LEAGUE OF NATIONS IS IMPOSSIBLE

Clamor for Speech by Judge Bolen, Democrat,
When Iowa Republican Finishes Attack
On President Wilson.

Assailing the Wilson administration from every possible angle, Congressman W. R. Greene of Iowa, republican, last night was patiently listened to by a large crowd on the corner of Main and Broadway for more than an hour. A sensation was sprung when the congressman had finished his address, the crowd yelling for a talk by Judge J. W. Bolen, local democratic leader. The crowd stood for two hours more listening to the judge, who mercilessly played the weak points in the congressman's argument against the democrats.

Invited by Local Committee
Congressman Greene came to Ada at the invitation of the local republican campaign committee. He opened his address with an attack upon President Wilson and the war congress. His talk was interspersed with funny yarns and amusing anecdotes, often bringing a ripple of laughter from his hearers. The League of Nations as proposed by the democrats, he declared, was impossible and would never be submitted to congress if Harding is elected.

Referring to the vast sum spent by the United States to win the war, Congressman Greene declared that a great waste had resulted because of "pork barrel" measures adopted by the administration.

"When the first Liberty Loan was proposed," he declared, "I introduced a bill in congress to create a commission to pass upon all expenditures to be made by the government. The bill was voted down because, it was said, it would entail a lot of red tape and hinder the speedy execution of the government's plans for winning the war. As a result, great sums were spent from which no benefit has resulted."

Blames Democrats for Depression
The congressman then told of different projects which, in his estimation, had proven flat failures. He had something to say about the federal reserve system, which he blamed for the present depressed business condition.

The congressman attacked President Wilson for asking congress to declare war on Germany.

"He was elected on the strength of the argument that he had kept us out of the war," he declared, "and a few weeks after he had taken the oath of office, he appeared before congress and asked that a state of war be declared between this country and Germany."

He then told of having been sent to Europe shortly after the war to investigate conditions over there, as a member of a commission.

"We visited all of the big battle fronts," he said "and saw the terrible odds against which our brave boys fought. We went to the famous Argonne front, where so many of our boys paid the supreme sacrifice, and there on the hillside we saw the little white crosses marking the last resting place of those who faced the rain of bullets from the machine gun nests."

"At Coblenz, I came down to breakfast one morning and gazing out of the window I beheld Old Glory proudly floating above the fortress at the bridgehead, and an American sentry pacing backward and forward. It was a symbol of freedom, attesting the triumph of an unconquerable people. But for what reason was it waving there above that foreign fortress? What justified us in sending our boys over there to die fighting Germany to keep her from wiping out the boundary lines of Europe?"

"Ladies and gentlemen, I am opposed to the League of Nations or any combination with foreigners which will force our army and navy to fight the battles of any other nation. We have more than paid our debt to France; we have paid our debt to Belgium, and we have many times paid our debt to Great Britain. My God! shall we do more?"

"Jim Bolen," Yells Crowd
As soon as the congressman finished his address, a yell went up from the crowd for a talk from Judge Bolen.

"Jim Bolen!" they shouted over and over, until the judge took the platform.

"This is one of the saddest moments of my life!" the judge declared, baring his head. "I see before me some of my best friends who apparently have swallowed bait, hook and all in listening to a man imported from Iowa to come here and pull the wool over the eyes of we ignorant Oklahomans; a man, who without a doubt knows nothing about what he is trying to talk about; a man who does not even know why the war was fought, who cannot understand the principles which guided our brave boys to die rather than see democracy perish under the heel of the world's most notorious outlaw. Yet they send such a man down here to enlighten us and tell us how to vote."

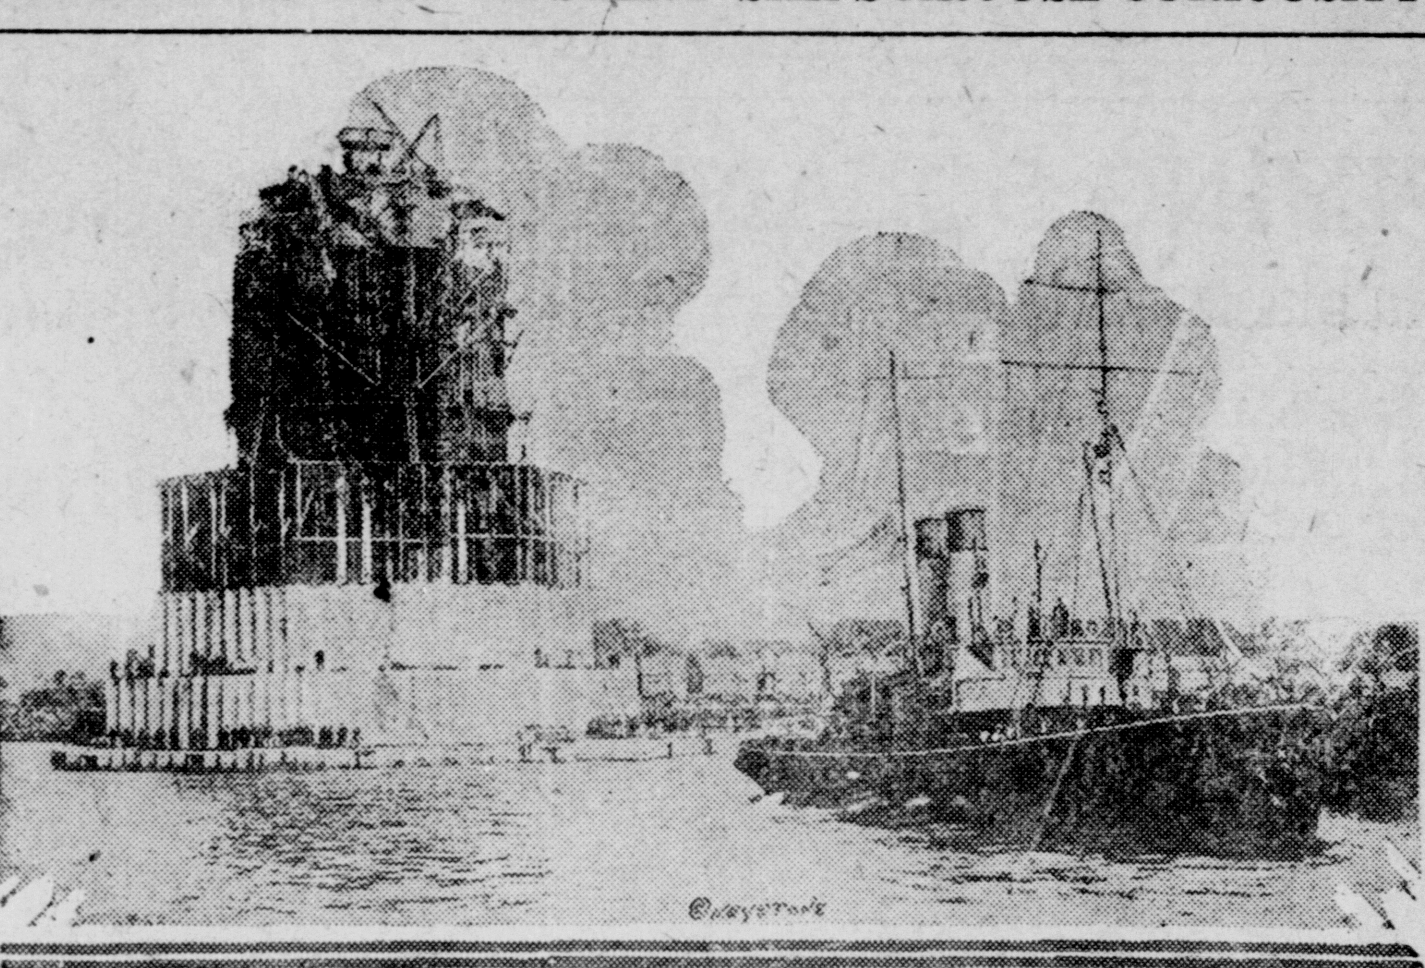

The judge explained the League of Nations as one of the greatest instruments ever designed to perpetuate and make stronger the bonds of the brotherhood of man.

"It is a league to prevent war," he declared, "not a league to make war. And no nation can be drawn into the war by the league unless that nation fully consents to come in of its own accord."

The judge was eloquent in his declarations. He was unprepared to make an address, yet he knew his subject so well and spoke so fluently, his listeners were held spellbound. He was applauded again and again.

He pointed out that the democratic party is the friend of the farmer and laborer; that the republican platform was written by the eastern capitalists, who want everything for themselves, and that the republicans are squandering vast

ENGLAND'S NEW MYSTERY SHIPS AROUSE CURIOSITY

One of the mystery ships on its way to sea.

"CURB MARKET" FOR LIQUOR ON BOWERY

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Frank L. Boyd, supervising prohibition enforcement agent for New York state, has received orders from federal headquarters in Washington to investigate reports of the existence of a "curb market" in contraband liquor in the Bowery, it was learned today. Pressed for confirmation of the reports, Mr. Boyd admitted he had heard about the matter.

According to published reports the traffic in liquor in this section has become so thriving that the hands of bootleggers engaged in supplying saloons and other places have hit upon the plan of making their market after the "curb market" in the financial district in order to facilitate the conditions.

A short distance from police headquarters here large transactions in liquor are said to have been made. The large supply being kept elsewhere on trucks ready for immediate delivery. The market is said to be open from late in the evening until the early morning hours and the brokers change their location frequently in order to escape detection.

Weather Good
FOR COTTON;
BAD FOR WHEAT

By the Associated Press
OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 13.—The seeding of wheat has been suspended in practically all parts of the state because of dry soil and lack of rain, the weekly weather and crop report for the week ending October 12, issued by the weather bureau here, declared today.

"Moisture is needed in all the grain producing counties of the state," the report says, "although early sowed wheat is generally making a good stand and is in fair to good condition."

"The past week was a good one for cotton," says the report. "The condition of the crop is improving and picking and ginning progressed rapidly."

FAMOUS ACES TO CELEBRATE ON ARMISTICE DAY

NEW YORK.—Airmen of the army and navy including many who won fame by their exploits during the war will gather here on the night of November 11 to celebrate the second anniversary of the signing of the armistice. The committee in charge has made reservations for 3,100 diners who will be arranged according to squadrons, flying fields and other units to which they belonged.

Military rank will be forgotten at the dinner, according to announcement by the committee. Generals will be mere pilots, exchanging stories of war experiences with airmen who served with lower rank.

Arrangements for the reunion are in charge of a committee of which Laurence LaTourrette Briggs, founder and first president of the American Flying club, is chairman. Other members are James B. Taylor Jr. and Albert G. Read of the navy; Eddie Rickenbacker, Elliot Springs, Charlie J. Briddle, Charles Hanson Towne, Harold E. Hartney and Cole J. Younger of the army.

JUST WORK AND WAIT

There is no market for cotton now. The buyers are not in the market. The spinners are not in the market. BUT THERE WILL BE A MARKET FOR COTTON, THE MILLS WILL COME IN AND SO WILL THE BUYERS.

Do not get stampeded. The thing to do now, then, is to pick the crop and when the demand does come, don't dump it all on the market at once. Hold the cotton, not for a big price when the demand does come, but try to be in shape so you can be able to secure for it something like its value as measured by cost of production.

Take your eyes off the future and spot board for a few days. We are not attempting to say what the market will be, but certainly this is time neither to offer or to sell. The cotton mills are out of the market. Wait until they come in.—From Memphis Commercial Appeal.

BABY MURDER MYSTERY CLEAR

Confession of Kidnapper
Satisfies Father of Baby
Coughlin.

By the Associated Press
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 13.—Satisfied that the mystery surrounding the kidnapping on June 2 of Blakely Coughlin, the 13-months-old son of George Coughlin of Norristown, have been cleared up by the confession of Auguste Pasquale, the authorities today began preparation of their case against the "crank" for presentation to the Montgomery county court. Mr. Coughlin also said he thought the case had been cleared up.

"I am very much relieved now that the tension is broken," he declared. "The suspense of living the rest of my life without the sure knowledge of the fate of my boy is now settled."

Although Pasquale, according to Major Adams, head of the state police, confessed that he smothered the child while making his escape with it under his coat and threw the body into the Schuylkill river, legal authorities here today said he could not be tried on the charge of murder because of the absence of proof of "corpus delicti" or body of the crime. A confession, they declare, could not be introduced as evidence until the corpus delicti has been shown.

A piece of steel with a string attached was found yesterday by a diver at the spot pointed out by Pasquale as the place where he threw the body into the stream. Evidence of a fire on the river bank where he told the authorities he burned the child's clothing also was discovered, but no trace of the body, however, was found, and officials believe none ever will be. They say that after being in the water more than four months it undoubtedly had decomposed and disappeared.

FAMOUS EVANGELIST ALEXANDER IS DEAD

By the Associated Press
BIRMINGHAM, England, Oct. 13.—Charles McCallon Alexander, an evangelist known throughout the world, died suddenly at his home here today.

Charles Alexander was born October 24, 1867, at Marisville, Tenn. Early in life he engaged in evangelistic work, directing his activities with great success to organizing and conducting large chorus choirs. He accompanied the Reverend Torey on an evangelistic tour of the world. He was the compiler of a volume of hymns.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS SENDS A TELEGRAM TO CHARDIGNY

By the Associated Press
LONDON, Oct. 13.—The league of nations has sent a telegram to Colonel Chardigny at Kovno, who is in charge of the league of nations committee there, asking him to report fully on the Vilna situation and the treatment members of the committee received and assuring him of the support of the league.

The Poles unofficially have been informed that the league considered the Vilna situation extremely grave.

OFFICERS LEAGUE TO BREAK BOOZE RING IN CHICAGO

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Federal prohibition agents and internal revenue agents, who have combined forces here in an attempt to put an end to the illicit sale of liquor, today continued their investigations of a newly discovered "whiskey ring," and it was announced that the real chieftain of an alleged "ring" was expected to be under arrest within a few days.

The alleged combination of men engaged in the trade included heads of large distilleries, saloon keepers, railway employees, and federal office holders. It was asserted in a confession by F. H. Sadler, former New York state broker.

GOV. ROBERTSON GETS WIRE FROM LEAGUE DAY COM.

By the Associated Press
OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 13.—A telegram from the League of Nations Committee, signed by A. Lawrence Lowell, of Harvard University, Hamilton Holt, Oscar Strauss, Carrie Catt, Irving Fisher and others, received here today by Governor Robertson, asking the governors of all states to proclaim Sunday, October 24th as "League of Nations day" to promote a better understanding of the covenant, was held up without any action because of the governor's absence on a tour.

By the Associated Press
BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 13.—A request by the league of nations committee, headed by President Lawrence Lowell of Harvard University, that the governors of all states proclaim Sunday, October 24, as "League of Nations day" to promote a better understanding of the covenant, was refused by Governor Coolidge today.

BANKRUPTCY AND RUIN INEVITABLE TO THE FARMER

Says Resolution Adopted by Agricultural Conference
At Washington.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—General bankruptcy and ruin are inevitable unless some immediate remedy is found to relieve the present price situation as it affects the farmer, says a report submitted to the agricultural conference here today by a general committee appointed to study the situation. The report was adopted by the conference without a dissenting vote.

The committee blames the federal reserve system for the present prices, charging that it has arbitrarily withheld from assisting the basic industry of the country to maintain a high level of prices that at least meet the cost of production.

The committee says "It is wrong as a matter of policy, artificially to press down prices of commodities, and it particularly wrong to begin with the raw commodities, for such a program forces upon the producer the heaviest burden of reconstruction and readjustment."

Crowd Scrambles For Money Thrown From Dunlap Store

Much excitement and fun was witnessed at noon today in front of the Dunlap Bros. store when fifty dollars in pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters, half-dollars, dollars and ten dollar gold pieces were thrown into the street. About 11:30 by the time for the throwing away of the money, such a large crowd had gathered in front of the building that the street was blocked and much clamoring and pushing was in evidence.

Harry Read of the Dunlap store was elected to the task of throwing the money and promptly at twelve he mounted the awning in front of the building and taking the money out of a pasteboard box scattered it among the people below, a hand full at a time.

The money was caught in the air and was snatched up from the pavement. Many mashed fingers, dusty trousers and much disfigured clothing were in evidence after the last of the money had been thrown to the crowd. It was not learned who got the ten dollar gold piece but several were heard making their boasts of having got half-dollars and dollars. All present had a good time and the only thing regrettable was that the money didn't last long enough.

This same thing took place in twenty Oklahoma towns at twelve o'clock this morning and it marks one of the greatest closing out sales in the history of Oklahoma. The local store has been crowded all morning.

No, the reform wave is not ebbing. The puritans are not going to stop with the death, burial and funeral obsequies of J. Barleycorn. And those who predicted that no more screws could be put in the lid when dance halls, pool halls, skating rinks and other places of amusement were put on the black list and closed have another guess coming.

The end is not yet, and if you insignificant male bipeds think you are entitled to any recreation other than working eight hours, eating and sleeping eight hours and serving God and helping distressed worthy brethren the other eight hours of the allotted twenty-four, you are simply suffering from an hallucination, that's all.

The "country village" sport of badger fighting has brought down the wrath of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Chamber of Commerce of this Double-A city, and if they have their way—which is more than likely—the sport is going to come to an abrupt and untimely end, and that without delay or remedy.

The News has just received through the mails a resolution passed by this body which is very emphatic and which speaks the minds of the good ladies on the

JAPS HOPE FOR SETTLEMENT OF RACE PROBLEM

Vice Admiral Says Japan
Should Be Prepared To Fight.

By the Associated Press
TOKIO, Oct. 13.—Leading Japanese politicians and business men have expressed their views on the relations between America and Japan in statements published in newspapers or magazines here in connection with the visit of the American congressional party.

Both Marquis Okuma, formerly premier, and one of the most revered of the Japanese statesmen, and Viscount Kato, formerly minister of foreign affairs and president of Kenseikai or opposition party, assert that the anti-Japanese movement in California is a question of racial prejudice. Statements by both are published in the Tokio Asahi.

Marquis Okuma, described the California situation as "one of the most knotty tangles that the United States and Japan will have to unravel. It can be traced to racial prejudice combined with economic jealousy," he said. "Exclusion of the Japanese settlers is insisted on because they are quick at saving money or in developing their business, with the result that the American finds it difficult to compete. With this creeps a feeling in the minds of the Americans that the Japanese, if left alone, will soon establish their influence in the entire district west of the Rockies."

The Marquis sees a possibility of reaching a happy settlement because the situation is being clamorously discussed. It is when the Japanese keep silent that the situation really becomes gloomy, he added.

Viscount Kato declares that since the anti-Japanese question in America is one of racial prejudice, it "must be settled by the Americans themselves. Japan should hold herself responsible only when wrongs are done by the Japanese immigrants."

Vice-Admiral Sato, in an article in the Taiyio, an influential Japanese political magazine, takes Americans to task for calling Japan a country of militarists which he denies.

"I am one of those who is firmly convinced that Japan and America should never fight," concludes the vice-admiral, "but I am also a strong advocate of Japan being prepared to meet any contingency and I think that this will be the surest means of preserving good relations between Japan and America and the peace of the Far East. There is no need for Japan to have military machines superior to those of America, but Japan should have enough to convince the United States that it would be an extremely expensive and risky matter to take up arms against Japan. In a word to insure peace between the two countries, it would be well if both have some understanding regarding their military preparations and thus disarm useless suspicions."

The resolution and proceedings of the meeting are anonymous. In that no individual officer or member signed the document, and the News has an invariable rule of not dignifying an anonymous communication by giving it publication. However, we feel in this case that we can break the rule as we are positive the epistle is bona fide for the reason that it is written on the official stationery of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Chamber of Commerce.

State Has Increased But 22.4 Percent in Ten Years

The census figures for the state of Oklahoma for 1920 show that the state has not grown as rapidly during the past ten years as during the previous decade. The figures given out by the census bureau give a total population of 2,027,564, an increase of 370,409, or 22.4 per cent.

In 1910 the population of Oklahoma was 1,657,155, ranking as 23rd most populous state in the union. It showed an increase of 886,764, or 109.7 per cent over 1900, having the highest rate of growth during the decade excepting the state of Washington.

In area Oklahoma ranked as 17th state in 1910 with a land area of 69,414 square miles, making its population 23.9 per square mile.

Oklahoma was organized as a territory in 1890 and appears in the federal census reports for the first time in that year. In 1907 Indian Territory and Oklahoma were admitted to the union as the state of Oklahoma.

During the first decade, 1890-1900, the growth of the territory which now comprises the state of Oklahoma was very rapid, its population increasing more than three times, while during the decade 1900-1910, the population a little more than doubled. During the first seven years of the decade ending with 1910 the average yearly increase was about 89,112, while during the last three years the corresponding increase was 80,993.

The population of Oklahoma in 1910 was more than six times as large as the population of the same area in 1890, while the population of the United States in 1910 was nearly one and one-half times that in 1890. The rate of increase in the population of Oklahoma during the decade 1890-1900 was nearly ten times that of the United States, and during the decade 1900-1910, a little more than five times.

Oklahoma's record of growth follows:

Year	Pop.	Inc.	Pct.
1920	2,027,564	370,409	22.4
1910	1,657,155	886,764	109.7
1900	790,391	531,734	205.6
1890	258,657	—	—
1907	1,414,177	—	—

OVEN HEAT REGULATOR SHOWN AT LOCAL STORE

Housewives everywhere have for years desired some means of heat regulation for their cook stoves. Poor quality of heat has been responsible for many burned dishes and countless quantities of food thrown away as it leaves the oven. The Nowata Hardware company during the past week demonstrated for the women of this city that cooking heat can be regulated and that food can be properly prepared with a minimum amount of effort.

A special demonstrator spent two days in Nowata showing the features of the Lorain Oven Heat Regulator, which promises to revolutionize all cookery. From fireside to the coal range was the first forward step in cooking. Then came the modern gas stove, an even more wonderful achievement. Now comes the final improvement that women have longed for. It is a device that will bake, cook and boil and stew all at the same time, with the one gas and without any need of watching on the part of the housewife.

By eliminating guess-work from cooking and baking, this device renders a service that every woman using gas will be eager to get. Most of them realize that one thing is missing in the best recipe. That missing feature is measured heat.

The Lorain regulator solves this difficulty. This and other modern inventions like the kitchen cabinet, the electric vacuum cleaner, power washing machine and sewing machines are making life more comfortable for the housewife. They permit her to devote more of her time to social life, mental improvement and all of the latest problems that are becoming of interest to women.

Women are no longer the slaves of the household, kitchen drudges, working from morning till night. Invention has taken the tedium from kitchen, and household necessary duties and the arduous features are now lightened and eagerly awaited by the housewife.

The matter of heat regulation for the gas cooking stoves is one of the foremost of these labor-saving devices and deserves credit.

The Lorain Oven Heat Regulator was shown at the store of Coffman, Bobbitt & Sparks yesterday and today.

SHAWNEE CANCELS PAVING CONTRACT WITH O. C. FIRM

SHAWNEE.—The Shawnee city council last night cancelled the paving contract of the construction company of Oklahoma City for the improving and paving of five miles of streets in this city. The contract was made May 5 and carried a clause stating that work was to start within thirty days, according to the city officials. Failure to start the work is given as the cause of the cancellation of the contract.

MUST FACE COURT ON THREE CHARGES

Henry Rogers was arrested yesterday and brought before Justice Joe Anderson to answer to three criminal charges, grand larceny, impersonating an officer of the law, and carrying a concealed weapon. He was released under bond of $1,000 pending his hearing at a later date. Information against Rogers was filed by Paul Whitehead, negro. Whitehead alleges that Rogers acted him and took a revolver away from him under the pretense of being an officer; that Rogers appropriated the gun with the intention of keeping it for himself, and that he concealed it on his person. The gun is valued at $35. The negro declared that he was carrying the gun to his home at the time it was taken from him. He had redeemed it from pawn, and had it in his hand when he met Rogers. "Has Rogers ever been before you before?" Judge Anderson was asked. The judge reached over and touched one of the big record books. "This book is just filled with the escapades of Henry Rogers," he answered. The county attorney is confident that Rogers will be convicted on all three of the charges. HOW ABOUT OKLAHOMA?

"I believe the Negro citizens of America should be guaranteed the full enjoyment of all their rights."—From Harding's speech of acceptance. Commenting on Senator Harding's above declaration, the Toledo, Ohio, Pioneer, a Negro newspaper, says as follows: "His words are an eloquent endorsement of the spirit and letter of the Beatty bill, the purpose of which was to insure to the Colored people their civil rights by imposing heavy penalties upon those who would deny them these rights. In other words, they would have the right to choose the hotel at which they might stop, the theatre which they might attend, or the place of amusement and recreation to which they might go, with no questions asked and no insults offered. The Beatty bill provided penalties of $100.00 to $500.00 fine and thirty to ninety days imprisonment, or both, within the discretion of the court."

Ring Candidate In Letter To Morris Is Clear on Prohibition

The race for the Shrine ring, to be awarded the most popular "novice" at the big ceremonial at Sulphur October 28, has, unfortunately, created a little friction that will be regretted by all members of the order who like to see harmony in all things and peace at all times.

Up to the present time it seems that the two hardest working candidates for the ring—and for aught we know the only candidates—are Walter N. Wray of this city and Charles L. Turley of Madill.

In the very outset Mr. Wray forestalled any controversy as to politics by saying on his announcement card: "A man's political and religious opinions are his own. Don't ask me about mine until after the ceremonial, please."

It seems that Mr. Turley, on the other hand, has either expressed himself on the prohibition question or else someone framed up on him and gave out a false report concerning his stand on the question.

Rev. C. C. Morris, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, has just handed us a letter from Mr. Turley which makes it plain that so far as the prohibition question, at least, is concerned, he has been misquoted or flagrantly misrepresented, or probably both. While the News is not acquainted with Mr. Turley, nor is interested in any way in his candidacy for the ring, at the same time we think that in the interest of justice his views are entitled to publicity, and for that reason we publish the letter in full herewith:

Mr. Turley's Letter.
October 2, 1920.

Rev. C. C. Morris,
Ada, Okla.

Dear Sir and Brother:
I expect to leave in the morning for McAlester to take the Scottish Rite degrees, but before going I want to write you a few lines to inform you and straighten out the idea that I understand you have gotten somehow that I was "against prohibition."

This is absolutely false. I have always been a prohibitionist, and although that matter has been settled by the highest courts of our land, I am still against it. And during my campaign I shall not use, or allow to be used, alcohol in any manner in my behalf for the winning one single vote. I might also tell you that it shall be my purpose to conduct a clean and dignified campaign and shall stoop to no unfair methods to win. If I cannot win by an honorable, upright and honest campaign, then I won't win. I do not expect to cast any reflection on any opponent I might have. I am running this race on my own merits and not upon the demerits of some other man.

I shall appreciate anything you might do in my behalf. You are in a position to do me lots of good, and I hope that you can see your way clear to support me and will not only support me in this race but will do some active work in my behalf. I expect to be in Ada before the ceremonial at Sulphur, when I hope to meet you, as well as all your friends in your city.

Every Shriner in Marshall county is for me. Am telling you this that you might know that all my home people are for me. At any time you can say a word for me, I assure you it will be highly appreciated.

Yours fraternally,
CHAS. L. TURLEY.

Sept. 6, 1919.

In August, 1918, my son Homer, Flowers of Blanchard, La., was sick and when examined by a doctor was pronounced to have an attack of Bright's Disease. This doctor gave him two prescriptions which were filled and faithfully taken. His attacks occurred again and again. About October 1st I purchased, on the advice of one of my friends, a treatment of HOBO Kidney and Bladder Remedy, which my son at once began taking.

His attacks immediately became less serious, and since Jan. 1st, 1919, he has not had a sick day from this old trouble. I knew that HOBO cured my son. This testimony is given absolutely of my own accord.

In this, and hundreds of other similar cases, has proven its wonderful ability to relieve disordered kidneys and bladder. HOBO may be taken with perfect safety. It contains no alcohol, no habit-forming drugs, and leaves no bad after effect. Druggists sell HOBO for $1.20 per bottle. If YOU have kidney or bladder trouble, GET A BOTTLE NOW!

HOBO Kidney & Bladder Remedy

DR. BUTLER'S EDUCATED MAN

That real education is much more than mere book learning has been contended before, but it was left for Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler to omit book learning from his prime essentials except so far as it is involved in the first one he mentions—"correctness and precision in the use of the mother tongue" which can be "gained only from association with good English." In addition Dr. Butler's "educated man" shows (2) "those refined and gentle manners which are the expression of fixed habits of thought and conduct"; (3) sound standards of feeling and appreciation; (4) the power of reflection; (5) the power of growth; (6) the ability to act efficiently without nervous agitation.

Obviously Dr. Butler is describing neither the average man with a college degree nor the hard student of after years whose mind is packed with facts of science. His statement of essentials would rule out an enormous number of the supposedly educated, for preoccupied scholars as a class are not conspicuous for good manners. His "educated man" is not only trained mentally but morally and carefully schooled in the refinements of life. He seems to be describing the "gentleman"—an elusive as well as an elastic term—rather more than the man of book learning. But that education in its broader and fully comprehensive sense should include all his essentials there can be no question. True education is a thing of the heart as well as of the head.

JAPS IN AMERICA

A Tokio correspondent of the Associated Press gives the following interesting summary of the sentiment in Japan on the California anti Japanese measures: There is genuine apprehension lest exclusion movements follow elsewhere, especially in the British dominions. The Japs complain that Americans confuse the effort to protect acquired Japanese rights in California with the not involved general question of immigration. The Japs regard war over the matter as "impossible," but consider a harmful estrangement "within the range of possibility." The Japs contend that if the Japanese question in California be left alone it will settle itself, because when the present settlers who cannot be naturalized die or return to Japan only their legal American posterity will remain, and these in the course of time will be assimilated.

This expectation that the children or grandchildren of the Japs now in California will be "assimilated" has but a flimsy basis if any at all. In former times this argument was addressed by some northern sentimentalist to the south in regard to the negro, but of course it fell upon deaf ears. Nature itself abhors the proposition. Doves do not mate with robins, and the grand divisions of the human race will remain distinct, except in a few abnormal individual instances. The impossibility of assimilation is the worst part of the Pacific coast's Japanese problem. In this connection Wallace Irwin's serial novel, "Seed of the Sun," evidently written after a careful study of Jap settlements in California, promises to be informing as well as interesting.

THE CONVICTED MOTHER

The conviction of Mrs. Bergdoll and four co-defendants for conspiracy to aid her sons Grover and Irwin to evade the draft was pretty generally expected, with the possible exception of Mrs. Bergdoll herself. They had made sport of the Department of Justice in a particularly irritating way, stubbornly persisting even after Grover Bergdoll had been finally caught and contriving his escape from prison. The government's unwavering pursuit of the conspirators even in peace times was inevitable as well as just. The issue of the trial in the lower court in Philadelphia was only what was to be expected in the case of the four co-defendants, but there was doubt as to whether the jury would convict a mother for aiding her own son to elude capture and to escape from prison. Even the judge in his charge to the jury remarked that "it is too much to expect any mother to surrender her own son."

Yet all the conspirators were found guilty and there was no recommendation of mercy to the mother, who also will face a term of imprisonment unless a higher court shall rule otherwise. Possibly the jury reasoned that Mrs. Bergdoll's mother love was not of a kind to win consideration. For she loved only her son's bodily safety and cared nothing for his honor or his future as a good citizen. Such mother love as hers is strong even among animals. The true mother will gladly take the risk of seeing her son fall in battle for his country rather than see him disgraced for life and permanently injured as to his moral character by his deliberate choice to play the role of a disloyal coward.

The extent of the ouija board craze must have been exaggerated, for in recent series of spelling bees at a popular summer resort in North Carolina, 50 per cent of the contestants failed to spell "ouija" correctly.

State Press Comment

Miami Daily News: The bare-knee and furless-neck era will not be in full sway until November.

El Reno American: Only in the movies, is there found sufficient optimism to picture a housewife in the same apron twenty years later.

Miami Daily News: The politicians haven't said a word about the plain people since women got the vote.

Lawton Constitution: Lawton appreciates the efforts of the Fort Sill boys in coming to her assistance Saturday night. While the fire was practically under control when they arrived, their services were appreciated. The Post trained fire detachment, which did splendid work Saturday night.

Pittsburg County Guardian: We understand they have arrested 30 alleged food profiteers in Oklahoma City. We hope they roped the pert young lady who charged us 10 cents for a drink of "cocky-coly" and even forgot to put the sirup in.

Durant Democrat: District Judge March, in a short talk to witnesses before a recent court of inquiry, state that Durant was the cleanest town, morally, he had been in in this state, and that every citizen should have due pride in the same, all of which we do.

Ardmore: When the frost is on the pumpkin and the fodder's in the shocks, it is then the men and women will vote for Jimmie Cox. Oh, 'twill set their hearts a clicking like the clickin' of the clocks, when they march up to the polls and there help elect Jimmie Cox. (With apologies to James W. Riley, deceased.)

Lawton Constitution: Leaving out many things that are contained in the league of nations and putting in many things that are not, republican speakers have attempted throughout to make a mystery of the covenant. There is nothing mysterious about the league, written in as simple and plain terms as could be devised.

Durant Weekly News: McAlester is trying to account for her loss in population, according to the government census, by pointing out the fact that the convicts in the state penitentiary were counted as a part of the city population but omitted this year. It really seems as though the convicts should have been counted, as they are among the most permanent of McAlester's population—your couldn't call 'em "floaters."

Ada Women Want Screws Put To Badger Fighting

ber of Commerce and is signed "Committee" in a legible and beautifully feminine hand.

The Resolution.
"Ada, Oklahoma, Oct. 12, 1920.
The Ladies Auxiliary to the Chamber of Commerce, in open session, unanimously adopted the following:

"We believe that Ada has outgrown the wide place in the road and village class, and that the high character of its citizenship must be promulgated at all times if we maintain the reputation acquired for clean morals and civic pride.

"We have heard of the manly (?) sport of badger fighting being practiced in only small towns of the village type, and being exploited in such papers as the 'Podunk Peanut.'

"We are humiliated to hear of this sport being publicly practiced in our city, and being blatantly written up on the front page, under big head lines, of our daily paper.

"That this practice has caused unfavorable comment in a large number of papers from over the state, and that at least one big daily newspaper referred to Ada as not having outgrown the western village.

"We believe this advertising to be of a derogatory nature and if continued will cause many people, seeking a location, to settle elsewhere, and that especially will harm us, thinking of sending their children to our schools, to be unwilling to send them where such practices are indulged in.

"Therefore be it resolved:
"First. That we request those that must indulge in this form of sport to do so in private, and not tell it.

"Second. That we condemn this sport as being unclean and vulgar, and an unfit example to set before our children. Especially do we condemn the publication of such affairs in our daily papers.

"Third. That we heartily endorse the attitude of the Ada Evening News as expressed in their several editorials in regard to the great extent that gambling on baseball games was indulged in during the baseball season just closed, and that we join them in the condemnation of this practice as being against the moral upbuilding of our citizenship, with special regard to the influence it has on the young men and boys of the city.

"Fourth. That a copy of these resolutions be submitted to the Ada Evening News, and a copy of them be embodied in the minutes of this meeting.

"Respectfully submitted,
"COMMITTEE
"Ladies Auxiliary Chamber of Commerce."

HARDING OPENS HIS SOUTHERN CAMPAIGN

By the Associated Press

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 13.—An outing among the Civil War landmarks about Chattanooga was arranged by Tennessee republican leaders today for Senator Harding, the party's nominee for president, who will open his southern speaking campaign tonight in the municipal tabernacle here. An automobile trip to points of historic interest, beginning soon after the arrival this morning of Harding's special train, was to occupy the candidate and his party until late afternoon. Missionary Ridge, Look-out Mountain and Chickamauga were on the route of the drive and a feature was a picnic luncheon on Signal Mountain.

PRIVATE OWNERSHIP OF ROADS COSTS MORE

By the Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Six months of private operations of the railroads cost the taxpayers of the country more than two-thirds as much as the two years and two months of federal control, interstate Commerce Commissioner Woolley declared in an address here today before the national association of ice cream manufacturers.

"The two years and two months of federal control cost the taxpayers $902,000,000, according to latest returns," said Mr. Woolley. "Assuming that the interstate commerce commission in the final accounting will allow all of the maintenance charges reported by the carriers in the period from March 1 to September 1, only six months cost the taxpayers $634,000,000, that is a deficit in operation in round numbers."

AN INVITATION AND AN EXPLANATION

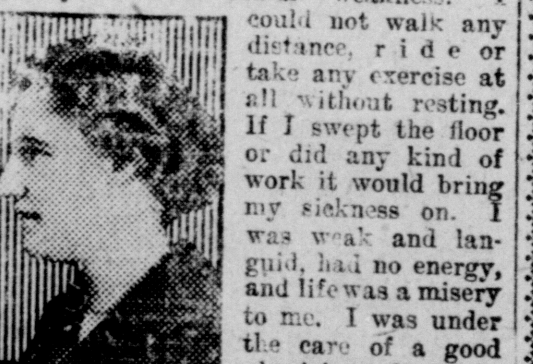

In the news article published in the Evening News about the organization of the Cox-Roosevelt club on Monday evening, the committee of women mentioned were not appointed on a reception committee from that club, but the committeewomen of the women's section of the central organization of the democrats of Pontotoc county. These, with other women of the These, with other women from the central organization, and also with the chairman of the Cox-Roosevelt club, will constitute a reception committee at the district court room Thursday evening at 8 o'clock to welcome the out of town visitors, as well as every democrat of Ada. It is urged that every woman interested in the success of the democratic ticket attend this meeting and also the meeting at 8 p. m., in the evening at the McSwain Theater to hear Congressman Scott Ferris. Let's have a packed house at both meetings.—MRS. TOM HOPE, Chairman, Women's Section, Central Committee.

LIFE WAS A MISERY TO HER

Save this Woman Until Redeemed by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Carrollton, Ky.—"I suffered almost two years with female weakness. I could not walk any distance, ride or take any exercise at all without resting. If I swept the floor or did any kind of work it would bring my sickness on. I was weak and languid, had no energy, and life was a misery to me. I was under the care of a good physician for several months and tried other remedies. I had read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. After taking twelve bottles I found myself much improved and I took six more. I have never had any more trouble in that respect since. I have done all kinds of work and at present am an attendant at a State Hospital and am feeling fine. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound to dozens of my friends and shall always recommend it."—LILLIAN THARP, 824 S. 3th St., Carrollton, Ky.

Normal Notes

Misses Lura and Lucille Blanchard of Purcell enrolled in the Normal yesterday.

The Pesagi staff held a business meeting yesterday and plans for the coming year's work were discussed.

The enrollment is now 406. This makes East Central about the second largest normal in the state, Edmond being the largest.

Hardy Roachs' name was left off the season ticket by mistake and the management of the team wishes to take this opportunity of announcing this oversight.

Mrs. Carter, Misses Carney, Ida Hoover and Emma Kellar and Mrs. Kellar returned yesterday from Oklahoma City where they attended to various business matters.

The season tickets are ready for the public. Everybody should get one, as there will be four and maybe five games played on the home grounds. The price of these tickets are $2.50 each, and as 75c will be charged to see the regular games and $1 for the Thanksgiving game, about $1 can be saved by buying the season ticket.

Saturday is the day set for the big game with Henry Kendall college. This is the first game to be played on the home grounds by the Normal team, and as the Henry Kendall team is one of the strotgers in the state and as the East Central line has never been crossed and the team never been scored on this promises to be a hard-fought game. Henry Kendall defeated the 'varsity' team at A. & M. last Saturday 20 to 14. The East Central team tied the freshman team 0 to 0 and the freshmen have defeated the 'varsity'.

LARGE CROWD AT SHOW LAST NIGHT

The Dubinsky Brothers' show was well attended last night and the large crowd was pleased with the fine acting and humor displayed by the actors. The title of the play given was "Stop Thief," and it was presented in such manner as to make many laugh, and some cry, and not at any time was the show so disinteresting as to allow the audience to slacken its attention. The play tonight will be "The Man Who Made Good." This play is said to be one of the best the company is able to stage and judging from the good manner in which the play was staged last night a good hour of enjoyment is assured to all who care to attend.

Good music was furnished by a first class orchestra and the between acts numbers were loudly applauded. The doors open at seven o'clock and the show begins at 8 o'clock. All who care to enjoy good music, humor and acting should be present at the performance tonight.

It is a custom of the company to give away each Saturday night, ending a week's playing in a city, a $25 diamond ring. The method used for awarding this ring is to give with each ticket a numbered slip. On Saturday night the duplicates to these slips will be placed in a box and someone selected to draw one of them out. The person in the crowd holding the corresponding number will be given the ring.

A young couple today from Oklahoma demonstrated the truthfulness of it when they were married by Judge Woodward.

Over at Sherman attending Kidd-Key is a young Miss Brown. The morning Frisco train brought a young man from Ada, Okla. The two appeared at 1:10 this afternoon at the judge's office with the license authorizing their marriage. The judge was phoned for at his home, where he had gone for dinner.

The young couple anxiously awaited the judge's arrival, as all runaway couples do. The words were soon said and the couple announced as husband and wife.

"Oh, don't let this get into the papers," urged the new, pretty wife. "My father is a newspaper man, and we don't want anyone to know we are married."

The young people are from Ada, Okla. The bride is Miss Laverne Brown, daughter of the editor of the Ada News. The groom, J. B. Smathers, is a musician in one of the movie theaters of that city. They will make their home in Ada, returning today.

After the ceremony the groom gave the new wife a kiss and the deputies extended the glad hand.—Denison, Texas, Herald, October 8.

SMART WRAP FOR FOOTBALL DAYS

Br Eloise.

With smart fur coats and fashion wraps the center of attraction, one is very likely to forget that winter has some attractive sports togs as well as summer. One does not need to wait for the skating season either to see smart sports clothes. There are autumn hikes and picnics, football games and motor trips, all of which demand sports clothes of some kind. Tweed suits and skirts with sweaters and polo coats are very smart. Knitted scarfs and hats and tailored shirts also belong in the fall sports wardrobe.

Here is a very unusual coat which the college miss will "just love." It is just the thing for keeping out the chill breezes at football games this fall and will be smart for wear at the country club. It is a knitted wrap of orange with white block designs forming a border and a white stole collar stripped in orange and cuffs to match as trimming—a loud and snappy combination which will appeal to youth. The coat is made on the fashionable new wrappy lines and is good for motor wear as well as street wear.

Servants' Quarters Destroyed By Fire Yesterday Evening

The servants' quarters of the J. A. Scales home at 226 East Seventeenth street were destroyed by fire about 3:30 yesterday afternoon. As soon as the fire was discovered the fire department was called out but they were unable to save the building as the water had been cut off on account of a break in the line near the brick plant. The chemical machine was used to prevent the fire from spreading but the high wind blew sparks on to the roof of the house occupied by R. W. Allen at 225 East Sixteenth street which caused the roof to catch on fire. This fire was easily put out, however, and very little damage was done to the house.

The damage is estimated to be about $100. No cause of the fire could be learned.

GO TO THEATRE

Ten per cent of all the profits from the exhibition of "The Skywayman," Lt. Ormer Locklear's last picture, a William Fox production, which is to be shown at the American Theater Thursday and Friday, is to be given to the families of Locklear and his pilot, Lt. Milton Elliott, by Fox Film Corporation.

A crusader for science, Lt. Locklear has appealed to the imagination as no other airman has done. He will live in history as the first flyer to go from one airplane to another in mid-air, a feat which first thrilled the world and then opened the eyes of scientists and experts to the new possibilities of aircraft. So highly were his experiments appreciated that the United States army gave him the free use of its flying fields.

"The Skywayman" is more than a thrilling picture. It contains a record of all that Locklear has done. It will show future generations what manner of man was this young American air explorer who taught the world so much. In the story Locklear plays the part of a member of the Lafayette Escadrille who loses his memory as the result of a crash in France, and then, on his return to America, fails to recognize his old friends. His plight leads him into a series of adventures Likening this to buying men's clothes—the values you see are several octaves ahead of the values you only hear about—and the store that does not keep its orchestra back of the palms is fifteen boat lengths ahead of the store that does.

When a man walks into this store for a Fall Suit or top coat he SEES more than he hears—because we have more to show than we have to say.

Our values are lusty enough to speak for themselves.

KIDNAPPER TAKES OFFICERS TO SCENE OF CHILD MURDER

By the Associated Press
HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 12.—Auguste Pasquale, self confessed kidnapper of Blakely Coughlin, today took Captain Gearhart of the state police to a spot along the Schuylkill river below Norristown where he declared he had thrown the body of the child, and a diver found a piece of rail and some string which he alleged he had tied into the child when he hurled it into the stream, according to a statement made today by Major Adams, superintendent of the state police.

Seymour, Ind.—"Some time ago I had a sick spell, something like indigestion," writes Mrs. Clara Peacock, of Route 6, this place. "I would get very sick at the stomach, and spit or vomit, especially in the mornings."

"Then I began the use of Theodor's Black-Draught, after I had tried other medicines. The Black-Draught relieved me more than anything that I took, and I got all right."

"I haven't found anything better than Black-Draught when suffering from trouble caused by constipation. It is easy and sure. Can be taken in small doses or large as the case calls for."

When you have sick stomach, indigestion, headache, constipation, or other disagreeable symptoms, take Black-Draught to help keep your system free from poison.

Theodor's Black-Draught is made from purely vegetable ingredients, acts in a gentle, natural way, and has no bad after-effects. It may be safely taken by young or old.

GOV. ROBERTSON ISSUES CALL FOR SALVATION ARMY

Gov. J. B. Robertson has issued a proclamation in behalf of the Salvation Army home service campaign which is now being conducted throughout Oklahoma. The governor points out the great work done in the past by the "Army" and calls upon the people of every county to give liberal financial support so it will be enabled to extend its relief work among the poor and unfortunate in every town and community in the state.

The proclamation follows: "Whereas, the Salvation Army has been a great power for the general good; a mighty force in building and moulding good citizenship through its amazing power and simple remedies for misery and despair; and, "Whereas, the Salvation Army is planning to extend its field of activities, and to lengthen and broaden its avenues of public service among the poor and others in need of help, so as to be of direct assistance to every town and community in Oklahoma; and,

"Whereas, it plans to maintain a system of county advisory boards throughout the state, thereby transferring the state of Oklahoma into one dynamic agency for the carrying out of its praiseworthy purposes; and,

"Whereas, the Salvation Army must have ample funds with which to conduct this work of relief in all parts of the state, the people of Oklahoma are asked to contribute the sum of one hundred and eighty-nine thousand dollars ($189,000) in addition to any amounts that may be raised in the cities as Salvation Army building funds;

"Now, therefore, I, J. B. A. Robertson, governor of the state of Oklahoma, by virtue of the power and authority vested in me by the constitution and laws of said state, do hereby call upon and earnestly request the people of Oklahoma to give freely of the means during the financial campaign which begins on Monday, October 4 and continues until October 14. And I call upon all citizens of Oklahoma whose hearts go out to the state's and the earth's unfortunate ones, to give active assistance in seeing that the campaign is a success; and call upon all ministers of the state to preach a sermon on Sunday, October 10, commending the Salvation Army and its great work in an effort to awaken the composite conscience of the state to the stupendous importance of this movement with the hope that the campaign will meet with the instant success it so richly deserves. "In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the state of Oklahoma at the executive chamber at Oklahoma City, Okla., this 2nd day of October, 1920. (Signed) "J. B. A. ROBERTSON, "Governor."

185 audiences tried it this way

MOST people know that the musical enjoyment which they get out of a phonograph depends upon one thing. That thing is the phonograph's realism.

This picture shows the best way to test a phonograph's realism. Miss Betsy Lane Shepherd, the famous soprano, is standing beside the New Edison, and singing in direct comparison with the New Edison's RE-CREATION of her voice.

185 audiences, aggregating more than 100,000 people, have actually heard this comparison. None could distinguish between her living voice and its RE-CREATION.

This is one of the phenomenal records of realism. The New Edison holds all other records of realism, too, because no other phonograph attempts this comparison-test—or could sustain it.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

You try it this way

—the way we use in our store!—the Realism Test! Test the New Edison's Realism against the pleasure you know music can bring.

Tell us what kind of voice or instrument gives you truest musical enjoyment. Listen while we play your favorite on the New Edison. The Realism Test will enable you to gauge whether the New Edison's RE-CREATION gives you all of this enjoyment.

This is your test! It will help you determine what the New Edison's Realism means, in terms of your own musical enjoyment.

Ask for it! The "Personal Favorites" Realism Test.

Another thing to ask about is our Budget Plan. It disposes of the money question, in a way that will appeal to your common-sense and to your pocketbook.

TO WORK FOR PRESERVATION OF CHILD LIFE

By the Associated Press
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 11.—An intensive campaign for the preservation of child life will be launched at the eleventh annual convention of the American Child Hygiene society which opens here today.

Directing attention to statistics recently made public by the organization that the number of infant deaths in 1919 was 12,000 fewer than in 1918, delegates said that an educational campaign among mothers would be conducted to reduce further this rate.

Many prominent speakers, including Herbert Hoover, are scheduled to address the convention. Mr. Hoover is expected to speak on "Central Work in Europe in Feeding Children During and After the War."

An exhibition of child welfare work is to be held in connection with the convention, which will continue through Wednesday. Topics to be discussed include:

CHANDLER SIX $1895

Chandler is Back to $1895

Chandler's reduction to $1895 is the news on the street today. And it's good news to the car-using public, because it means that Chandler has taken another big stride forward in the leadership of its field.

The Greatest Dollar-for-Dollar Value Throughout the Industry

The Chandler has always been closely priced and today, at $1895, it is decidedly the greatest value in the whole automobile industry.

The Leader of All Sixes; Most Closely Priced

It has always been the basic policy of the Chandler Company to build a really fine automobile and to price it closely. The great Chandler plant, the millions of capital employed in Chandler production are back of that statement. They exist because of that policy. Chandler is the greatest of sixes and the most fairly priced.

Constantly Refined and Improved But Never Radically Changed

Other cars of many kinds and many motors have come and gone while the Chandler Six, now in its eighth year, lives and grows, and every season multiplies its thousands of friends. There is only one Chandler Six, refined and improved throughout the years but never radically changed. There is no other car like it. You will find the exclusive Chandler motor under the hood of no other car. No other car, within hundreds of dollars of the Chandler price, has the features characteristic of the highest type of design and construction for which the Chandler Six is justly famous.

Handsome Chandler Body Types On One Standard Chassis

On the one standard Chandler chassis, famous for its marvelous motor and for its sturdy, dependable construction throughout, are mounted six beautiful styles of bodies that meet every requirement for your comfort and satisfaction. Beautiful in design, exceptionally roomy and comfortable, and highly finished, these six Chandler models invite your most exacting inspection.

WHAT THE FOOTBALL BOYS OF THE HIGH SCHOOL DID

I wish to commend in the strongest possible terms the action of the football team of the high school in cutting out cigarettes. This is a great forward movement if they stick to it and I believe they will stick to it. They are made of that kind of stuff. The blighting, weakening, demoralizing influence of the cigarette is apparent to all who stop to look. A fellow can play better football if he doesn't smoke cigarettes, and he will be a better man and citizen. I'm for you, boys.—C. V. Dunn, minister

Dunn Will Attend Convention
C. V. Dunn, minister of the Christian church, will attend the International convention of churches to be held in St. Louis, October 18-25, according to the decision of the church last Sunday. He will attend the pre-convention congress also, which will be held in the same city October 15-18. The convention will be held in the coliseum and the congress in the odeon. It is not probable that there will be any services in the evening at the church in Ada while the minister is gone, but Dr. Linscheid will speak on Sunday morning, October 24. Announcements for next Sunday will be made later.

Prayer Meeting.
The prayer meeting at the Christian church will begin promptly at 7:30 and last a half hour, closing at 8, to give any one a chance to go and hear Anna Case. Those present will study the eighth chapter of Hebrews.—C. V. Dunn, minister.

Dunn to be District Superintendent.
At a meeting of the district board of the Christian churches of the Fifth district of Oklahoma, C. V. Dunn, minister of the Christian church of Ada, was elected superintendent of the district. He has decided to accept, and will begin the work as soon as he can conveniently arrange matters to do so. But that will not be until the first of December or even later. He will remain minister of the church in Ada until he takes up the district work.

The Fifth district embraces the following counties: Atoka, Bryan, Coal, Carter, Choctaw, Garvin, Haskell, Hughes, Johnston, Latimer, LeFlore, Love, Murray, Marshall, McCurtain, Pittsburg and Pontotoc. His work will consist of holding meetings for weak churches building them up and securing ministers for them, establishing churches in new places, and other work of a like nature. He will most probably make Ada his headquarters.

Mr. Dunn tendered his resignation to the church in Ada last Sunday with a view to taking up this work, and though the church by a substantial majority refused to release him, he feels justified in taking up the new work. It is a larger field of service, though the financial remuneration is about the same. Mr. Dunn regrets in many ways to give up the work in Ada, and trusts that a man will be found who will carry on the work successfully.

PROGRESS:

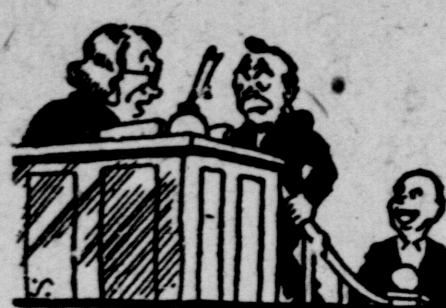

Who can measure its power, or fix its limits of action?

"Progress has ruled and overruled the forces of the universe. Progress has tilled the soil and made it bring forth abundance. It has pulled down the hills, filled up the valleys and even removed the mountains." All of these things and more progress has done.

And of rare achievements of progress there are none which surpass in importance our civilized system of banking, upon which all of the great throbbing commercial life and progress of the city, the nation and the world depends.

Fined for Running Punchboard
O. R. Wood, a merchant of Roff, was haled before Justice Brown yesterday charged with running lottery punchboards in his place of business. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $25 and costs of court. Wood was arrested by Sheriff Bob Duncan, who found the punchboards on display in the former's store.

Forbes Dismissed.
A Forbes, charged with open and notorious adultery, was dismissed in Justice Brown's court this morning following a preliminary hearing. Forbes had been arrested and fined in police court for consorting with a young girl in a local rooming house. He was later taken into custody by the county authorities and held on the more serious charge.

Forbes has a wife and three little children at Wewoka, and Mrs. Forbes asked for the mercy of the court, as she and the children need him. It was found that his offense only constituted consorting.

Wants Divorce
Mary Young has filed a suit for divorce from her husband, H. B. Young.

In her petition for a divorce she stated that she was married to H. B. Young in Ada April 2, 1916, and that they have been husband and wife ever since. She further stated that on or about the first day of August he deserted her and had failed to support her ever since. She also stated that he had at times been guilty of extreme cruelty to her and had caused her much suffering and humiliation. Therefore she prays for a divorce and whatever relief the court thinks she is entitled to.

Congressman Greene Tells Crowd League of Nations Impossible

sums to blind the people to their real purpose.

"The bread and meat question is the biggest problem before the people," he declared. "We want assurance that our wives and children will not have to go hungry every time the republicans see fit to draw the strings tight. We want to take the hands of the big manufacturers out of the pockets of the wage earners. We want a league of nations which will assure us that our boys and their boys will never be drawn away from home to the battle fields, a league which aims to settle all differences of nations by arbitration and to resort to force only when every other means has been exhausted. We want peace and happiness and comfort in our homes. We do not want the fruits of our toils to go for fattening selfish interests."

Spectator Causes Disturbance
A curt remark from a bystander distracted the speaker's attention for a moment.

"That's all right, Byars, I would not let my boy peddle whisky under my very nose," the judge said aside. In a moment Byars Chapman who had made the first remark, was crawling up the side of the big truck on which the speaker stood. He was ordered down by an officer. The crowd surged forward threateningly and Chapman soon left.
